PROJECTS

Automatic Class Scheduler – C++

- Currently designing and building this application from the ground up as a personal project because this is something that I cannot find and would be extremely useful for students.
- The application gives users all possible class schedules given various options for classes.

Backend Store Project – C++

- Created and designed this for a class project simulating a backend for organizing data for a store.

Bulls and Cows – C++

- Programmed for a school project for the classic number guessing game “Bulls and Cows.”

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE
